

President's Desk March, 2012

Dear Parents,

Hello!

Hope you are all enjoying the break with your children, friends and family?

We had a nice and somber farewell ceremony for our graduates of 2012 year. It was a memorable event with the children all proud and happy. We expect the very best of each of our graduates from the Kindergarten... All of us at Little Angels are proud of them and wish them the very best in life...

As many of you are aware, several of our kindergartners are joining our elementary school and so we will be seeing you again soon..... it is a real nice gift to see them back in our school!

As a school, we have once again been showcased on television on account of our wonderful curriculum and highlighting our efforts to be unique among the schools providing a holistic education. This time, NTV (Channel 4) choose to highlight our Elementary School in the "School Revolution segment" on the 25th of March, 2012. This is no small achievement and it further showcases our ability to perform better than many of our peers and I am happy to share this with you.

Let me remind you of the first grand event of our 2012 - 13 academic year: The Entrance Ceremony! We hope to see you all on that wonderful day..... Welcome to all new entrants and all our students as well.....

Thank you once again for your kind patronage. Lets look forward to a great year with many more fun filled activities which augments our focused and holistic learning.

We have many great expectations of ourselves and our students and kindly do join us in all the events....

This year, the Cherry Blossoms are a bit slow to bloom but each and every day spent in anticipation is worth this once-in-a-year event. Happy Sakura Watching.....

Thanking you once again and with all best wishes,

Rani.
