

From the President's Desk (April 2007)

Looking forward to the new Academic Year!

Last year was an extremely adventurous one. Many new children and the first graduation. I am so proud that our school got wonderful press coverage. It all started with AERA in August followed by Ojji and TV coverage. Three major national networks, Fuji's Tokudane, TBS Evening News and NTV's Zoom in, said great things about our Little Angels.

The International Children's Day in February was a wonderful event where the children tried on Indian costumes and performed an Indian traditional dance sequence. The children had a great time at the Police Station and Fire Station visits.

Most of all the first graduation from our Kindergarten was a fun-filled and tearful occasion. The pinnacle of the event was our first valedictorian's speech. Ayaka gave a touching speech and her experiences in our Kindergarten and the memories she will carry on with her thru her life brought tears of joy in everyone's eyes.

Looking forward to the new year with lots of hope and challenges. Hope we will be successful in our search for a more spacious building to launch new programs. We have launched our Home Schooling Program where we will help the children from International Kindergarten and returnees to continue to excel in English language studies.

Next academic year we will be having our own Little Angels Elementary School, for which all the ground work has started.

Hope and pray to have another prosperous year and wish all the children a fun-filled learning experience.
